The Perry Plantation

Host your next event at the historic Perry Plantation!

History of The Perry Plantation

The 527 acre historic Perry Plantation is steeped in history. It was the home of the fourth Governor of Florida, Madison Starke Perry in the mid-1800's. It housed the first civilian fort, Fort Craine, during the Seminole Wars, and therefore played several vital roles in Florida's rich history.

Today it is home to the Macaulays, and is a working hay and horse farm, as well as home to the Misty Morning Hounds, a drag-foxxhunting club. The Old English manor house is complete in every detail, including an authentic English pub! Wildlife abounds on the property, so expect to see deer with spotted fawns, bucks, wild turkey, hawks, sandhill cranes, bald eagles, owls, foxes, fox squirrels, coyotes, raccoons, and even the occasional panther!

Events at the Perry Plantation

The Perry Plantation, located in historic Rochelle, just 8 miles from downtown Gainesville, FL, has hosted many events such as weddings, fundraisers, formal balls, corporate dinners, themed parties, and funerals. The 6,000 sq ft barn can accommodate approximately 200 people for a sit down dinner reception with a band and dancing. For cocktail parties with hors d'oeuvres, we can accommodate up to 350, and with additional tents, the possibilities are endless! The 7500 sq ft house and various sites around the property offer options for photo shoots or other aspects of your function.
